Anti-Communist Law On Books Since '53

By Charles Edward Chapel
Assemblyman, 46th District

Many people continue to write to me that I should vote for a bill to "outlaw the communists in California." Some write more explicitly and say "outlaw the communists in California by voting for a bill to take them off the ballot." Evidently these people have been to patriotic rallies and are motivated by speakers who are new to the fight against communism in California, but it would be more effective if the speakers at the anti-communism rallies would take the trouble to read the California Statutes.

In 1940, the communists were taken off the ballot by name. This was done by means of a bill having 65 authors, the principal author being Assemblyman Jack Tenny (later state senator). The bill passed both houses of the legislature, was signed by the governor and became Sections 2540.3, 2540.4, and 2540.9 of the Elections Code.

SHORTLY thereafter, the Communist Party brought an action in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County to overthrow the law, but the law was sustained in the court, with Superior Court Judge Thomas C. Gould presiding, hence the communists lost the first round.

The communists then appealed to the State Supreme Court to overthrow the opinion of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County. If anyone wants to look up the case in the law books, it is cited as: "Communist Party vs. Peek, 20 Cal. 2d 536." The "536" is the page number of the beginning of the State Supreme Court decision. The last page is 556, hence the report is about 21 pages long, much too long to quote in full here, but it simply says that it is not constitutional to take the Communist Party off the ballot in California by name.

HOWEVER, ANYONE who studies the case very carefully will learn that the State Supreme Court was giving the State Legislature a very strong hint that the law could be rewritten and accomplish the same thing by describing the Communist Party without mentioning it by name. This decision was handed down by the State Supreme Court in 1942.

In 1950, I was elected to the assembly, and was sworn into office early in January 1951. Having studied the case of Communist Party vs. Peek, I began to explore law books and consult with patriotic men and women in both the Republican Party and the Democratic Party who would support the bill I proposed to introduce whereby the communists would be taken off the ballot by description, although not by name.

IT TOOK ME from January 1951 to January 1953 to find the exact phraseology required and to make certain that my bill would be enacted. Finally, in 1953, I introduced my Assembly Bill No. 52. It passed the assembly on May 28, 1953; passed the senate on June 5, 1953; and was signed by the governor.

At first my law taking the communists off the California ballot by description was cited as Chapter 1217, Statutes of 1953. Later, it was cited as Sections 2540, 2540.4, and 2540.9, Elections Code, and beginning with the elections in 1954 I have explained this in mail sent to every registered voter in the 46th Assembly District during each election year.

I HAVE MAILED this statement twice in 1954, 1956, 1958, and 1960, first before the primary election and again before the general election. In addition I have mentioned it repeatedly in each newspaper publishing my regular, weekly column, at least once a year for nine years.

Recently, a lawyer very kindly wrote to me that he could not find my anti-communist law in his own law library which he recently purchased from the West Publishing Co. I went to his office, examined his books and found that my law is in "West's Annotated California Codes, Volume 29, Elections Code," but the law is listed there in Sections 6431 and 6432, pages 367 to 369, both pages inclusive.

EMINENT LAWYERS have repeatedly assured me that my law is constitutional, that it has taken the communists off the ballot since 1953, and the communists are still off the ballot. I hope this satisfies everyone and that my friends will please write to all patriotic lecturers, authors, radio commentators, and television commentators and send them a copy of the above statement. If this is done, it will save me time, stationery, and postage which I need to continue to fight communists from other angles.

High School Honor Pupils Go to College

With the end of the fall semester, 46 high school students from local schools will be completing college level courses at Harbor College.

This is the third semester that Harbor College has enrolled high school students in this special program, giving them an introduction to advanced courses before completing high school.

High schools participating in the program are Banning, Gardena, Narbonne, San Pedro, and Washington. Palos Verdes High School will be sending students for the first time in the spring semester.

Legally the honor students remain under the jurisdiction of the high school district but must follow regular testing and registration procedures of the college. They may enroll only in regularly scheduled day classes, not to exceed five hours per week. These students are not identified or given special recognition, so that they compete on an equal basis with other members of the class.

Each semester the five high school counselors in charge of the honor students meet with the coordinator of the program, Mrs. Jean Marton, and assistant dean of admissions, William McMasters, to share ideas for improving the program.
